Baxter Paul Harmon, 21, Biglerville R. 1, appeared voluntarily before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehoar Friday evening, waived a hearing and posted $1,000 bail to appear in November court on state police charges of involuntary manslaughter in the auto accident that took the life of Mrs. Susanna M. (Ehrhart) Sharer, 62, on February 4.

The accident occurred when the Harmon car and one driven by Melvin M. Sharer Sr., New Oxford, husband of the late Mrs. Sharer, crashed head-on a mile south of Biglerville on the Gettysburg Rd. at 10:45 p.m.

Harmon was seriously injured with a fractured skull, lacerations and a broken right leg. Mr. Sharer, 59, was hospitalized with a broken nose, injured knee and chest and shock. Duane Eckert, 17, Biglerville R. 1, a passenger in the Harmon auto, was hospitalized with deep lacerations of the face, head and left ankle.

Mrs. Sharer died at the hospital 45 minutes after the mishap. State police said Harmon was passing another vehicle when he hit the south-bound Sharer car. Harmon's sedan was demolished and the Sharer car damage was estimated at $500.

GROVE RESIGNS ACDHIA OFFICE

H. Russell Grove, Gardners R. D., Friday night resigned as president of the Adams County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, a post he had held for two years. He will sell his dairy herd and farm. The resignation was accepted with regret.

Clay Snyder, Gardners R. D., who had been vice president, was named president to fill out the remainder of Grove's term which expires March 31.

Mervin Myers, Littlestown, was elected vice president to fill the vacancy caused by the advancement of Snyder.

Earl Noel, McSherrystown, was elected to fill the vacancy caused on the seven-man board.

The board voted to engage a potential tester to attend the short course in milk testing to be given at Pennsylvania State University October 7 to 12.

Stolen Auto Is Claimed By Owner

Paul C. Brown, Valley Forge, at 9:50 o'clock Friday night recovered his 1955 Mercury sedan which had been stolen Friday morning in Coatesville and abandoned on Hanover St., believed to be by the person who stole Mrs. Donald F. Garretson's car of Aspers R. 1.

Brown said a white Navy blanket with "Brown P. C." printed on it and a white T-shirt had been taken from his car.

Mrs. Garretson's car was stolen at 10 o'clock Friday morning from the north side of Hanover St. as she talked with a woman across the street. The car was last seen headed west on York St. but borough police said this morning the thief may have turned south.

President And Governor Of Arkansas Confer At Newport On Little Rock Segregation

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

NEWPORT, R. I.—President Eisenhower held a dramatic private meeting with Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus today, seeking a solution to the school integration deadlock in the South.

Eisenhower and the Arkansas governor went into conference at 8:48 a.m. at the President's vacation headquarters on the Newport Naval Base moments after the White House brought Faubus here by helicopter from nearby Providence.

Three of Eisenhower's top aides, including Atty. Gen. Brownell, were on hand for the unpreceded meeting. Faubus brought Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) and a personal assistant with him for this effort to resolve the federal-state deadlock.

DR. R. S. KIRBY, PATHOLOGIST, RETIRES SOON

Dr. Robert S. Kirby, extension plant pathologist on the Penn State Univ. staff since March 1, 1924, a frequent visitor in Adams County's fruit section for the last three decades and a speaker at most Adams County fruitgrowers' meetings in that period, will retire September 30.

With 33 years of service devoted to plant disease control on Pennsylvania farms and orchards, he will have emeritus rank as professor of plant pathology extension.

Majoring in horticulture, he was graduated from New Mexico A. & M. College and received his master's

Bigler Gridder Has Left Thigh Broken

William Coradetti, coach of the team, described Sanni as "one of our best players and I don't know how we'll replace him." The youth, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Sanni, Biglerville, was a back on the Junior High squad. The squad was practicing for its opening game of the season next Wednesday.

Brought to the Warner Hospital in the Biglerville Fire Co. ambulance, young Sanni was admitted as a patient.

Majoring in horticulture, he was graduated from New Mexico A. & M. College and received his master's degree in the same subject from Iowa State College. After three years as pathologist in cereal investigation in the mid-west for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, he did graduate work in plant pathology at Cornell University for his doctorate degree and for a year served full time on its staff before coming to Pennsylvania. In 1950, on sabbatical leave, he studied fruit production and disease control methods in West Coast states.

Part of Mrs. Wilson's regular report showed 1,555 loans during the summer through the direct service given via the bookmobile to several county towns. "We'll need extra staff help and more books if we're to be able to meet the demand next summer for this 'curb book service,'" Mrs. Wilson told the directors. She said two days a week should be allotted for that service next summer.

Circulation Increases

Circulation figures continue to rise at the library and August's total was 5,667 as compared with 5,422 in August of last year. Much of the increase came at the main library, the report showed. Circulations at adult stations and branches showed a drop but this was offset by the 606 loans through the direct service in August.

The addition of Mrs. William Coradetti, Biglerville, to the library staff to succeed Mrs. Edith Cressler was announced. Mrs. Cressler has become librarian at Beaver, Pa. Mrs. Coradetti is assisting with bookmobile service.

A number of memorial gifts to the library were listed by Mrs. Wilson. They included a $100 gift by C. P. Keefer, New Oxford, a member of the library board, as a memorial to his wife. Some of the money is to be used for adult books on the arts and music and the remainder for books for junior and senior high school age readers.

AMATEUR GOLF TITLE WILL BE DECIDED TODAY

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—A California dentist who looks on golf as his hobby or an Air Force Lieutenant whose duties include playing in all tournaments of national importance, will be the next national amateur golf champion, succeeding ineligible Harvie Ward.

The dentist, Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor of Pomona, Calif., and the Lieutenant, late thin Hillman Robbins of Memphis, Tenn., and Blytheville, Ark., Air Force Base, met today in the 36-hole championship over the hilly rockribbed 6,800-yard course of The Country Club.

The title at stake was one which Ward, winner for the past two years, couldn't defend because the U. S. Golf Assn. found him guilty of violating amateur rules and handed out a year's probation.

Taylor A Stylist

Taylor, a golfing stylist whose swing and putting touch are the envy of other amateurs, is 40 years old. His biggest triumphs have been in the California amateur—a tournament he won twice when Ward and Ken Venturi weren't around to beat him.

Robbins, 25, doesn't look as if he could endue playing 36 holes a day under a hot sun. But after he had gone the full distance to eliminate big Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Texas, two up, he claimed his only discomfort came from his feet.

"This course is hilly and rocky and kind of hard on them," Hillman said. "Otherwise I don't feel very tired."

Taylor crushed young Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., yesterday—winning eight of the last ten holes. Taylor has played some of the finest golf in this tournament—five strokes under par for 121 holes.

Waits 15 Years For Acquittal

HARRISBURG (AP)—Fifteen years and eight months to the day after he was indicted, Son Lester, 32, of Harrisburg, was cleared of assault and battery charges.

Judge Abraham H. Lipez of Clinton County, presiding in Dauphin County Court, found Lester innocent yesterday. The charges were filed against him Oct. 12, 1941 and the grand jury returned an indictment Jan. 13, 1942. Lester was accused of joining six others in an assault on a man in nearby Satara Twp.

The cases of five others were disposed of but Lester and another man jumped bail. He returned to Harrisburg to live soon afterwards but non one made a move to prosecute him. The records were recently discovered in an old file.

"I just minded my own business—I couldn't see any reason for rushing this thing," Lester said.

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Patrick J. Devine, 25, of Philadelphia drowned in a swimming pool last night at the Echo Lake Lodge and Motel 12 miles from this Pocono Mountain community.

Police said he had checked into the lodge with some friends a short while before the drowning. State police from the Stroudsburg barracks are investigating.

FIRST MEETING OF LITTLESTOWN PTA ON TUESDAY

The first fall meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Littlestown Joint School System will be held on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the general purpose room of the Rolling Acres Elementary School. Charles E. Ritter, PTA president, has announced that this will be an excellent opportunity for the parents to meet the teachers of the jointure.

"Orientation for the School Term 1957-58" will be the program theme. It is urged that all parents having children in school for the first time in the jointure be in attendance. The committee in charge of program arrangements consists of Frank E. Basehor, Mrs. John Kump, Mrs. Aaron Rohrbach, Mrs. John Gentzler and Fred Hartlaub.

A pep rally was held for the students of the Junior-Senior High School during the last period of classes on Friday afternoon in the school auditorium. The rally boosted enthusiasm for the opening game of the Thunderbolts football season last evening at Shippensburg High. A large crowd of students traveled to Shippensburg along with the team and band.

Gobrecht Speaks

The rally began with pep "tunes" by the band, directed by Paul A. Harner. There were cheers by the student body, led by the cheerleaders: Shirley Hoff, captain; Shirley Showvaker, co-captain; Ruth Koontz, Shirley Leister, Laurna Bowers and Jane Sheetz. Paul E. King, supervising principal, and Frank E. Basehor, administrative assistant, spoke briefly. Wilbur J. Gobrecht, head coach of the Thunderbolts, was presented and spoke to the students; he also introduced his 1957 gridiron team.

The calendar of events for the coming week at LHS has been announced as follows: Wednesday, 7:45 a.m., in the POS of A Hall, E. King St. The program is being arranged by the following committee: Mrs. Chester S. Byers, chairman; Mrs. Irvin Kindig, Mrs. Richard A. Little, Mrs. Howard Myers, Mrs. Leonard L. Potter, Mrs. Gilbert A. Royston and Mrs. Howard Trostle.

Hostesses for the club meeting will be Mrs. Atlee F. Robert, chairman, Mrs. Cloy I. Crouse, Mrs. Nevaeh A. Crouse, Mrs. C. Wayne Purdie, Mrs. Monroe J. Stavely and Mrs. R. J. Stonerifer.

THE GREATEST REWARDS

The greatest rewards are not measured in gold . . . or the things that money can buy . . . but rather in the priceless things . . . that lift our spirits high . . . of course we all have need of coin . . . that fact is far from new . . . but gold alone can never bring . . . a happiness that is true . . . we must have love and tenderness in order to be gay . . . without these treasures life is cold . . . and clouded with dismay . . . friendship is also a reward . . . for kindness that we give . . . good will and brotherhood can live . . . life wonderful to recompense . . . gained by all righteous men . . . the profit of a godly soul . . . is really ten times ten . . . the greatest rewards are within reach . . . they are free for us to take . . . to have and hold throughout this life . . . and use for mankind's sake.

The 26th annual exhibition of the Cumberland Valley Photographic Salon will be held at the Washington County Museum of Fine Arts, Hagerstown, from November 3 through 29 with its aim to present the best in regional photography.

Bruce Etchison, director of the museum, announces the following divisions: black and white prints which must be mounted and unframed, 16 to 20 inches in size. Color prints may be in any process and must be mounted. They will be judged as a separate unit. Color slides (35mm. only) will be accepted and judged as a separate group. The judging of the slides will be based on color, composition and photographic skill, regardless of subject matter. Those accepted will be shown on a light table during the exhibition.

There will be first, second and third awards presented in the four following categories: portraits in black and white, pictorial subjects in color prints, and all classes in color slides. A Hagerstown Photographic Society "best of show" award will be given to the print receiving the most ballots cast by visitors during the first two weeks of the exhibition.

The Jury of Selection for the 1957 Cumberland Valley Photographic Salon will consist of three out-of-town judges. Open judging will be held on the evening of Tuesday, October 29, at 7:30 o'clock in the museum auditorium.

The competition is open to all photographers in the general territory bounded by these cities: Harrisburg, York, Hanover, Frederick, Winchester and Cumberland. For further particulars and entry forms, apply in person at the Washington County Museum of Fine Arts, in Hagerstown's City Park on Route 11, by writing the Museum at P. O. Box 423, Hagerstown, or by telephoning REgent 9-5727 there.

LEGION TO BUY NEW OUTFITS

Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, held its first September meeting on Thursday evening at the Legion Home, E. King St. Commander Lawrence E. Crouse presided, and called for a report from Adjutant Paul E. Altoff. It was decided to make available the post home for use by a social security agent, if a more suitable location in the community is not found.

The post authorized the ceremonial detail committee to proceed with arrangements to purchase summer uniforms. Earl L. Stites reported on the financial results of the concession stand conducted at the Kingsdale firemen's carnival. Preliminary plans were discussed to hold a smoker on Friday, Sept. 27. Details will be arranged later. Commander Crouse appointed Edwin A. Sell and Ralph R. Ruggles Jr. delegates to the 22nd District meeting on Sept. 27. The Legionnaires will meet again on Thursday, Sept. 26.

Work will be done in preparation to plant grass seed at the Littlestown Little League Field, located at the rear of N. Queen and W. Myrtle Sts., on Monday evening. All players, their fathers, managers and officers are asked to take rakes and go to the field at 6 o'clock.

Plan Annual Supper

The Ladies' Aid Society of Redeemer's United Church of Christ will make and sell chicken and ham salad sandwiches on Wednesday, September 25. Those wishing to order sandwiches in advance should call the president, Mrs. Edward B. Geiman.

The annual covered dish supper will be held in connection with the first fall meeting of the Hustler's Class of Redeemer's Church, in the church social hall on Monday, 6:30 p.m. Each member is asked to take her own table service. "Rainy day bags" will be returned at this meeting.

The sky was gray as the big green Marine helicopter with its two red-helmeted pilots arrived here after circling Narragansett Bay on a seven-minute flight from Providence, where Faubus spent the night.

Both sides—federal and state—were going into the conference in hopeful mood. But neither side was making any flat prediction the parley would produce a sure swift solution.

Reporters requested that the President and Faubus hold joint or separate news conferences after their meeting, but whether they would remained uncertain.

Precipitates Crisis

Faubus precipitated the crisis which led to this history-making meeting with Eisenhower by using National Guardsmen to block court-ordered mingling of white and Negro pupils at a Little Rock, Ark., high school.

The governor, who requested a conference with Eisenhower, arrived by plane last night at near-by Providence, R. I. The White House arranged to bring him from there to the Presidents headquarters this morning—by helicopter or automobile, depending on the weather.

Faubus is accompanied by Donald Sikes, his executive assistant, and Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), who had a key role in arranging the Eisenhower-Faubus meeting.

Three Aides Present

Also on hand are three key presidential aides who flew in from Washington last night. They are Atty. Gen. Brownell and White House Special Counsel Gerald D. Morgan—the Presidents chief legal officers—and Sherman Adams, his top assistant.

In Little Rock earlier this week a source close to Faubus pictured the governor as ready to "confer, not capitulate at this meeting with Eisenhower.

On leaving Little Rock yesterday Faubus said he was optimistic about solving the problem in Little Rock where Federal District Court injunctive proceedings have been started against him in a move to clear the way for school integration.

But at Providence last night the governor replied he could not answer when a newsmen asked whether he would order National Guardsmen away from Little Rock if Eisenhower requested him to do so.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

DDT Spray at Arendtsville Kills Insects: Arendtsville was practically fly and mosquito free today, according to residents of the borough who were high in their praise of the borough council and others who were instrumental in having the town and surrounding area sprayed with DDT solution Monday morning.

Housewives said that for probably the first time this summer they were able to stay out-of-doors after dark Monday evening without being bothered by mosquitoes.

E. D. Bushman, general store-keeper, paid tribute to Dr. Fred Lewis of the Arendtsville fruit laboratory, who suggested the plan; Dr. Raymond Hale of the Arendtsville board of health and M. E. Knouse who backed the project financially, for their service to the community in suggesting and arranging for the spraying of the town by airplane.

Chamber Asks DDT Spraying of Gettysburg: Gettysburg may soon join the ranks of cities sprayed with DDT to destroy flies, mosquitoes and other insect pests.

This was revealed Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce at which the chamber went on record as "100 per cent endorsing" a plan to have the borough sprayed by plane with DDT. Burgess C. A. Heiges promised to call a special meeting of council with the chamber next Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the engine house to discuss the matter.

Aerial Ladder Truck Driven Here Tuesday: Gettysburg's new fire fighting piece of apparatus, a 65-foot aerial ladder truck, recently purchased from a Wilmington, Del., fire company, was driven to Gettysburg Tuesday and is now housed in Jutte's garage. It will be remodeled for early service here.

Clapper-Stitt Wedding Is Held: Miss Jean Evelyn Stitt, daughter of Mrs. Susanna E. Stitt and the late John M. Stitt, New Oxford R. 2, and Eugene Elwood Clapper, son of Toney A. Clapper, Table Rock, were united in marriage in St. Paul's (Pines) Lutheran Church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Elmer Drumm, pastor of the bride, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Arendtsville Lutheran To Be Rededicated: Trinity Lutheran Church, Arendtsville, will be rededicated at three services Sunday.

The rededication program marks the completion of the larger portion of a program of redecorating and renovating the church, the Rev. George H. Berkheimer, pastor, said today.

Cost of the redecorating so far has been $16,742.49, the pastor announced, all of which has been paid.

Locust Grove Deed Is Filed: A deed transferring five acres of land at the intersection of the Taneytown Rd. and Steinwehr Ave. to J. P. and Caroline B. Little of Hanover has been filed in the office of the register and recorder at the court house here.

The land was sold at public sale by J. Donald Swope as executor of the estate of S. McC. Swope to the Hanover couple for $7,130.

It is the section popularly known as Locust Grove, adjoining the Gettysburg National Cemetery. Its acquisition and addition to the National Cemetery were recently proposed to provide additional burial space for war veterans. Attorneys for the estate said it had previously been offered for that purpose.

Sheely Pleads for Universal Military Training at Unveiling of Firemen's Plaque on Thursday: "Unless we meet the dangers which confront us and unless we accept the responsibilities of a world power in the peace making which has followed the second world war we cannot honor these men," Judge W. C. Sheely declared to a gathering of more than 150 persons Thursday night.

He spoke Thursday night at the engine house at the unveiling and dedication of a memorial plaque to the members of the Gettysburg Fire Department who served in World Wars I and II.

THINGS NEAR AND DEAR

No matter how extensive our travels, and the viewing of things, here and there, there always comes the thrill of returning to the things that are near and dear to us. Home, for example. We are nourished by what is most familiar to us.

I have a small collection of books at my summer island retreat, but when I return home, I am again with other books and precious items that have given me pleasure and intellectual gain over the years. Small items that I have gathered, and which remain inspiring to me.

The commercial value of these things may be very little, but there is something spiritually valuable about books and articles that have stood the test of years, and added little touches of beauty to our daily lives.

I have a small group of books in my home that I keep close to me, for intimate thoughts.

Hardly a day passes that I don't take one from its nest and get a spiritual thrill from it. I like to call my good friends over the telephone, for it brings them close to me. The experience still fills me with wonder, as do all our modern inventions—a touch of God in them all!

Thorae spent two years at his Warden Pond retreat, and he became so familiar with his whereabouts, that he wrote in his diary sufficient data to cover a dozen or so books that have since been treasured by all lovers of this remarkable man. He wrote about the simple things about him, those that stimulated his mind.

Thorae said that "the far-fetched is of the least value." The familiar little things, near and dear, warm the heart most, no matter to whom they belong.

A TIP
Maybe, if you'd try, young fellow, You could make the grade. But you'll never do it sitting idle and afraid.

Maybe, if that job you'd tackle With your might and main, You could do it. But to sit there Dreading it, is vain.

Maybe, if you worked, young fellow, You could reach the top. But you'll never get there while you.

At each barrier stop, If you'd only keep on going You might climb the bluff, But you'll never do it grumbling That the road is rough.

If you'd buckle in, young fellow, You might win a prize. But rewards are only given To the youth who tries.

Sitting down and loudly sighing At each sign of care Will not, this is straight, young fellow.

At each sign of care Will not, this is straight, young Get you anywhere.

Cards Lose To Giants And Miss Chance To Move Up On Braves Who Bow To Dodgers

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press
Milwaukee's Braves lose, but they gain. That's what the St. Louis Cardinals are up against in the National League pennant race.

The second place Cards, feeling the crushing weight of last month's nine-game losing streak more and more each day, had a chance to move up in their improbable bid for the flag when Brooklyn beat the first place Braves 5-1 last night, but they blew it in a 7-3 defeat by the New York Giants.

The twin defeats left the Braves five games ahead of St. Louis in the standings, but reduced their magic number to 10—with any combination of Milwaukee victories and St. Louis defeats totaling 10 giving the pennant to the Braves.

Yankees Near Clincher

Both have 14 games left and to give you an idea of just how tough things are for the Cards, they could win 10 of the remaining 14 while Milwaukee was winning only six and the Braves would still claim their first flag since 1948.

The chance for an upset in the American League race are even slimmer now that the New York Yankees have whipped Chicago's second place White Sox 7-1 in the opener of their two-game "showdown" series. The Yankees' magic number is nine with 13 to play. The Sox have 15 left.

In the other games yesterday, Cleveland clobbered Boston 16-3 and Washington whipped Kansas City 11-6 in the AL, while Cincinnati outlasted Philadelphia 8-7 and Pittsburgh swept a double-header from Chicago's Cubs 4-1 and 2-1 in the NL. Rain postponed the Detroit at Baltimore game.

15th For Drysdale

Don Drysdale, the sophomore righthander who tops Brooklyn's staff, won his 15th with a five-hitter, permitting the Braves only one hit over the last five frames in his first complete game against Milwaukee. The Brooks bagged it with four in the seventh, getting the first two on Carl Furillo's double off loser Gene Conley and scoring the other pair on bases loaded walks from reliever Don McMahon. It was Milwaukee's sixth defeat in nine games.

Ex-Cards Ray Jablonski juked St. Louis' winning streak at four, driving home New York's first three runs with a double and single. The Giants won it with three in the eighth off starter Larry Jackson, now 14-9, overhauling a 2-1 lead the Cards had nursed for four frames.

The Cards scored one in the eighth, but Marv Grissom came on to nail it by striking out the pinch-hitting Stan Musial with the bases loaded. Musial still leads in the bat race at 340—four points ahead of Willie Mays, who gained four points with four of the Giants' 16 hits.

Pound Billy Pierce

The Yankees, with Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron coming off the injured list, socked the Sox early, rapping 19-game winner Billy Pierce for seven of their 13 hits and a 4-1 lead before he left with his 11th defeat in the third. Mantle, out for 19 days with shin splints, doubled home a run in the first and tripled and scored in the third. That raised his average to .370, six points shy of Boston's Ted Williams (.376) who is still sidelined by a chest ailment.

Whitey Ford won his 10th, giving up Sherm Lollar's 11th home run, but scattering the six other hits the Sox managed in his six frames. Bob Grim mopped up with one-hit relief after Ford gave up a bad cold.

The Indians battered four Boston pitchers for 21 hits, five by Dick Williams, while Vic Wertz drove in five runs with a homer and two flies. Mike Garcia won his 11th.

DENVER — Gardner Mulloy defeated Australia's Bob Howe, 10-16, 14-16, 6-4, in the Colorado Open Tournament.

Understatement: the altitude of Belize, seaport capital of British Honduras in South America, is one foot.

Washington's first AL home run champ, clubbed his 37th and 38th for three runs that iced the league leading RBI total to 105. Dick Hyde won it, pitching five innings of one-hit shutout relief as the Senators ended their losing streak at five games and tied the cellar while the A's dropped in.

Jack Sanford, Philadelphia's rookie of the year candidate, lost his second in a row for 17-7 record, although all but one of Cincinnati's five runs against him were unearned.

Bob Friend won his 12th with a six-hitter in the opener for the Pirates, who cashed home runs by Hank Foiles and Bob Skinner. A two-out single by Gene Freese in the ninth won the nightcap for the Pirates.

Littlestown Upended 38-13 By Impressive Shippensburg Outfit In Opening Contest

An impressive Shippensburg High School football team romped to an easy victory over Littlestown 38-13 Friday evening at Shippensburg as the Hounds scored in every period. It was the opening game for both teams.

Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist who seldom looks at teeth, was more calm and relaxed yesterday than for a long, long time as he whipped Glen Lakes Country Club's tight 6,328 yards with an 8-under-par 63 course record to take the first-round lead in the $40,000 Dallas Open.

It was the best round the two-time National Open champion had shot this year—a year in which he battled illness and nerves for the worst showing in his fine career. Middlecoff hasn't won a tournament but finished second three times. The runner-up spot that hurt the most was in the National Open when his game collapsed in a playoff with Dick Mayer.

Bessellink Second

But there was nothing wrong with Cary's play yesterday as he came in with a stroke bulge over the field.

Second was Al Bessellink, the big blond from Grossingers, N. Y., who had a fine 64 with a putter that gave him eight birdies.

Third were a couple of Texans—Howie Johnson, the Houston star who registers out of Akron, Ohio, and Earl Stewart of Dallas, once a regular on the tour. Johnson and Stewart each had a 65 with fine chipping and putting.

To Cut Field

Four players, all virtual unknowns, tied at 67. They were Bill Parker of Tulsa, Leon Pounds of Midland, Tex., and John Weaver of Houston. Eleven wound up at 68.

That Middlecoff may not be a regular on the tour in the future is indicated by his signing with a hotel and golf course in Florida where he will pass up most of the winter tournaments. Cary is expected to become a golfer of the Jimmie Demaret type—have a highly remunerative job that will allow him to play only in the tournaments he wants to play in.

The field will be cut to 90 low pros and ties and 10 amateurs to enter. There are 135 players entered.

Eastern League

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — The middle class of the Eastern League begins a struggle for the Governors' Cup tonight.

The Binghamton Triplets, this year's pennant winners, were knocked out of the running last night by the Albany Senators, who finished fourth in the regular season. The Senators edged the Triplets 5-3, winning the semifinal playoff series 3-2.

Schenectady, which ended the season in the second spot, was eliminated earlier from the cup series by Reading, the third-place club in the six-team league.

So tonight at Reading, the Senators and the Indians square off in the opener of the best-of-five final series.

Bill Slack, the league's leading pitcher, was the winner last night. He gave up nine hits, walked one struck out six.

Seneca Winter Wheat Called Desirable For This Section

By FRANK ZETTEL

Adams County Farm Agent

Seneca, the leading soft red winter wheat variety in Ohio and grown to some extent in Pennsylvania, is a desirable wheat for Pennsylvania farmers who have grown and liked the Thorne variety. The variety is similar to Thorne in appearance and breeding but is higher yielding, and has a heavier weight per bushel. Because of its heavier, plumper grains Seneca is preferred to Thorne by flour milling concerns and grain elevators.

The variety is beardless, brown-chaffed, medium in maturity, and has a medium-height, stiff straw. The straw strength of Seneca is particularly important to a farmer who has trouble with his grain going down. At present there are no other soft-winter wheat varieties commercially available which have the straw strength of Seneca or Thorne. Pennell, a variety also recommended in Pennsylvania, has a stiff straw but because of its taller height does not stand up as well under some storm conditions as Seneca or Thorne.

In eight years of trial in Pennsylvania Seneca has yielded on the average one bushel more per acre than Thorne. On this basis Pennsylvania farmers who grew 100,000 acres of Thorne instead of Seneca in 1955 lost more than $1 million.

Control Rodents, Save Grain

Farmers face the loss of thousands of dollars worth of stored wheat unless they take prompt steps to protect it from rats. To rat-proof bins, use a poison bait, and the keeping of surroundings clean is recommended. Use half-inch hardware cloth or galvanized metal to close all holes more than a half inch wide to keep rats and other rodents out of bins.

To stop rats from climbing outside walls, nail strips of galvanized metal along sides of the bin about 10 inches from the ground. The sheet metal should be bent out at the right angle for a one-rat the top. Since rats can jump only about 3 feet, they cannot get above the metal.

Galvanized metal nailed along the lower part of doorways prevents rats from gnawing around the doors. Hardware cloth stops rodents from entering bins through air ducts in forced air drying systems.

Eliminating trash destroys hiding places for rodents. They like to work under cover and won't stay where they can't find shelter. Poison bait stations also aid in the battle. Warfarin or pival is recommended for the poison.

Ways For Increasing Lamb Crop

Five suggestions on better fall breeding practices for increasing next spring's lamb crop are offered.

Buy a good ram, if one is needed for the flock.

Pushing. If ewes are in rundown condition, turn them on fresh pasture or feed some grain for a few weeks before the breeding season.

Tagging. Remove the tags or dunglocks about the dock.

Check on ram. Know whether the ewes are getting bred. Mark the breast of the ram every day with a thick paste of ochre and lubricating oil, and change the color every 16 days.

If the weather is hot during the breeding season, shear the ram to keep him cooler and more vigorous.

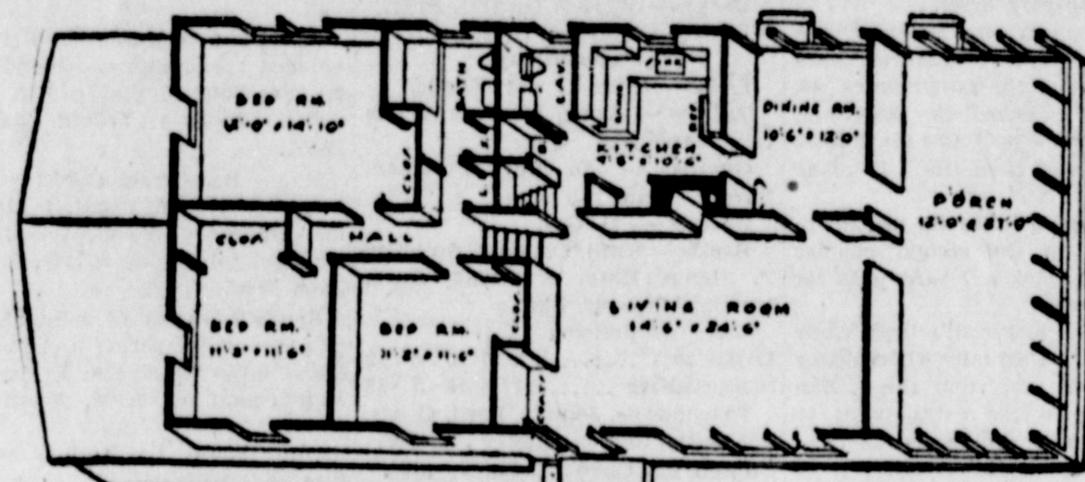

30 Or 40 To One

Producers choose their breeding seasons to have their lambs arrive on a schedule that suits their labor situation and market conditions.

For ewe flock replacements, seasons of profitable flocks select early-maturing lambs of ewes that are good lamb raisers. These breed more readily than the culs, and keep the best stock for building up the flock.

Thirty to 40 ewes are regarded as the right number for a one-ram

"Princeton" Features Lot Of Space

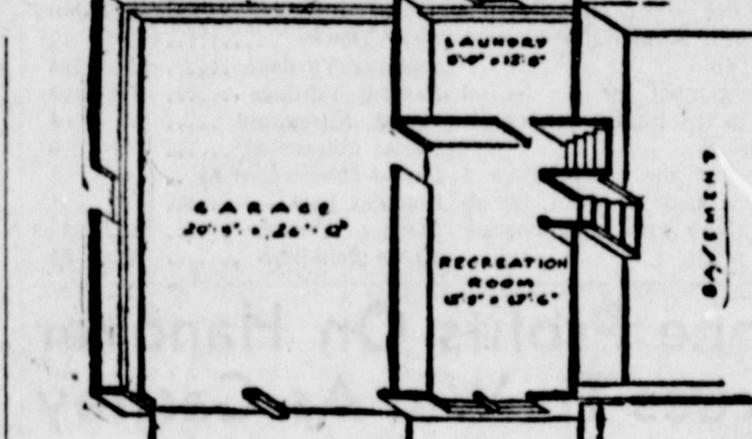

Rooms: Seven
Bedrooms: Three
Closets: Eight
Cubage:
House: 35,200 feet
Garage: 6,000 feet

Because a house of this style is so ideally suited to much of the New England terrain, the "Princeton," a thoroughly modern split-level house, is certain to prove a very popular Home of the Week.

On the first level are located the generous sized living room, the cozy dining room, the all modern kitchen and a lavatory. The three bedrooms and the bath are placed on the second level. And a two-car garage, laundry and recreation room are on the lowest level of this plan.

California redwood or a stained wood finish could be used very successfully; clapboards are suggested on the upper level of the house to provide a pleasant contrast. Of course, a sloping or hilly lot would be most appropriate for this design; the house will look equally "at home" if it is built right near the street or further back on the lot.

Clock. Smaller flocks often are neglected with the result the owner loses money and soon go out of the sheep business.

Lends Itself To "Traffic"

Just a glance at the accompanying plan will show you how convenient and easy it will be to go from one part of this house to any other part. The halls are so placed that "traffic" doesn't have to go right through the center of rooms. Indicative of the careful interior planning utilized in this house is the inclusion of a stairway leading to the recreation room from the basement as well as another stairway connecting the recreation room directly with the kitchen.

Throughout the house, too, you'll find plenty of storage space—a feature certain to win the approval of the "lady of the house." Equally important is the central location of the closet space so that not only is there a generous amount of storage space available, but that storage space is placed where it will be most useful.

ASK IMMEDIATE HIKE IN FARES

PHILADELPHIA (W) — The Pennsylvania Railroad has asked the state Public Utility Commission for permission to increase its commuter fares by 15 per cent immediately rather than wait until next year.

At a public hearing Thursday, the PRR said it would issue refunds on the space in the garage will come in handy as a storage area, too—especially for garden tools, screens, storm windows, etc. In the basement there also is a generous amount of storage space.

Be sure to notice the abundance of windows in this house, too—including the two windows in the front wall of the recreation room.

Approved by both the VA and PWA the "Princeton," or any other plan in this series, can be obtained at moderate cost.

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost.

higher fare, if the proposed increase, currently suspended until Jan. 15, is subsequently approved.

"We are losing between $700,000 and $800,000 a year by the delay," R. H. Bengartz, PRR counsel told the PUC.

The carrier was advised by PUC examiner Jay Eiseman, sitting with Commissioner P. Stephen Stahlnecker, to file a formal written motion with the commission in Harrisburg.

Both the Pennsylvania and the Reading Co. asked for the increase last May 15, to become effective a month later. The two carriers later postponed the effective date a month and then the commission seat in the 1955 general election.
